

thrillist

All The Coolest Things to Do in San Diego This Weekend

Play ball, San Diego!

By Mary Beth Abate Updated on 4/1/2021 at 4:25 PM

BARLEYMASH

It's the Padres' opening day weekend, so we'll be raising a glass or two of .394 while we cheer for the boys of summer. We're also watching movies under the stars, exploring unusual PB&J pairings, and going on a boozy "egg" hunt. Here's everything you can eat, drink, and do in San Diego this weekend.

Root for the home team

Thursday, April 1

Gaslamp Quarter

Tickets for opening day at Petco Park may be sold out, but you can still have a seat behind home plate for the Padres home opener at barleymash. With plenty of TVs and outdoor patio seating, plus limited indoor dining, you won't miss a minute of the action. Just for opening day, barleymash dishes up fan favorites with a twist, like El Carne Totchos, loaded tots smothered in serrano beer cheese and carne asada, or a Jalapeno-Cheddar Grand Slam Dog with a house-made jalapeno-cheddar sausage, pork chicharrón, and corn-cotija aioli on a Cuban roll. Wash it down with a local beer from one of their 27 taps.

Cost: Varies

Thrillist San Diego features Barleymash

4.1.21